

He is Project Leader at the Italian Institute of Evaluation. He is a psychologist and psychotherapist, as well as an expert in personal wellbeing and community development. He is also a member of the Italian society of Positive Psychology (SIPP) and the Italian Association of Evaluation (AIV).

He collaborates as an educator/trainer with the Università Cattolica di Milano, Faculty of Education and with the Milanese company named Metodi. He worked for several years with the I.Re.F. Lombardia in the role of trainer and consultant for evaluative processes. He has published articles and assisted in the drafting of volumes concerning evaluation in organizations and people's psycho-social wellbeing.

Contact details: gianluca.braga@valutare.org